Mrs. Anne Kifer
Biography

Mrs. Anne Kifer has been with the Association for Rescue at Sea (AFRAS) since 2001 as both Secretary and a Director on the board.

Her previous association work has included the position of Executive Director of the National Association of Power Engineers (NAPE) Education Foundation in Washington, D.C. between 1992 and 1997. NAPE provides classes and certification programs for building engineers. The Washington D.C chapter typically enrolled approximately six hundred students per semester.

Mrs. Kifer earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics in 1984 from James Madison University. She taught high school math at a Gaithersburg Maryland High School for six years before beginning a math tutoring business that allowed her to stay home with her two young children. She returned to the classroom in 2004 and is currently a math teacher at Gibraltar Schools in Door County, Wisconsin where she resides with her husband. They love being outdoors especially if it involves a water activity on Green Bay or Lake Michigan waters which surround the Door Peninsula.
